

- Primitive data types: Simple values (integers, floats, characters, booleans) stored directly in memory (stack).
- Reference variables: More complex (strings); store a memory address pointing to a location in the heap.